

HALF DAY WORKSHOP:
Local Agency Public Works:
Minimizing Risk and Handling Disputes
May 22, 2008

WHO SHOULD ATTEND Local public agency employees, consultants and representatives who supervise or manage construction projects, including but not limited to project managers, project engineers, senior agency staff, construction managers, architects, and attorneys.

SCOPE OF WORKSHOP In addition to reviewing many of the legal requirements for public works in California for local public agencies, this workshop will emphasize techniques for minimizing risk before and during construction projects, as well as how to better manage construction disputes. Learn lessons from problematic projects of the past so history does not repeat itself.

SPEAKER Arne Sandberg, Esq., of Lozano Smith in San Ramon, has presented numerous times for APWA through workshops and presentations at the annual Public Works Conference. He has spent the last 15 years representing public agencies, with the last 12 years focusing on public works disputes, litigation and general advice throughout the state.
